Mission and Vision

Mission

The Ohio Department of Rehabilitation and Correction protects and supports Ohioans by ensuring that adult felony offenders are effectively supervised in environments that are safe, humane, and appropriately secure.

In partnership with communities, we will promote citizen safety and victim reparation.

Through rehabilitative and restorative programming, we seek to instill in offenders an improved sense of responsibility and the capacity to become law-abiding members of society.

Vision

The Ohio Department of Rehabilitation and Correction will demonstrate excellence in every facet of our operation to inspire confidence in our ability to continuously improve in a system that:

Meets every employee's personal growth and professional needs;

Demonstrates justice and fairness for community members, victims of crime, and offenders;

Responds to the concerns of the citizens of Ohio and other internal and external stakeholders.

Message from the Director

Reginald A. Wilkinson, Ed.D.

I am pleased to present you with the Ohio Department of Rehabilitation and Correction's (DRC) Fiscal Year (FY) 2004 Annual Report. The thousands of dedicated staff inside Ohio's 32 correctional institutions, seven Adult Parole Authority (APA) regions, the Corrections Training Academy (CTA), and DRC Central Office continued to provide quality correctional services to the citizens of the state of Ohio during Fiscal Year 2004, ensuring the department's place as one of the top corrections agencies in the nation.

In support of its "Good Neighbor Pledge," DRC seeks to foster strong partnerships with organizations within the community. These relationships offer win-win opportunities for both our community partners and for DRC.

Our community partners benefit by having a talented and motivated labor pool available to assist with a wide range of programs both inside and outside the institutions. The Habitat for Humanity Prison Partnership program, for example, has resulted in the construction of 27 homes for deserving families throughout Ohio.

Offenders benefit in a myriad of ways. Working on projects with our community partners develops tangible and marketable skills offenders use to find gainful employment following their release from prison. Additionally, many of our community partners give freely of their time and talents tutoring, mentoring or instructing offenders both during their incarceration and after their return to our communities.

In Fiscal Year 2004, DRC continued to build new and strengthen existing community partnerships. For example, a partnership between DRC, the Ohio Department of Agriculture (ODA), and The Ohio State University has led to the development of the Meat Processing Career Center at the Pickaway Correctional Institution. Ground was broken in Fiscal Year 2004 on the MPCC which, when fully operational, will provide 140 offenders with valuable job training experience in a high-demand field, offer valuable training opportunities for ODA meat inspectors, and hands-on experience for OSU College of Veterinary Medicine students.

The Department of Rehabilitation and Correction is proud of its commitment to its community partners, but not content to rest on past achievements. Every opportunity to expand the list of worthwhile and mutually beneficial partnerships will be explored. This philosophy is the epitome of a win-win arrangement. That is what being a good neighbor is all about.

Community Service

Pet Training Programs

The Department is proud to play a role in providing assistance to the special needs population. Inmates have trained 50 dogs for Pilot Dogs, Inc. in FY 2004. This organization serves the visually and hearing impaired. In FY 2004, inmate volunteers trained 245 dogs for Circle Tail, Inc., at an average cost benefit of $8,000 per dog. Circle Tail trains shelter dogs for family adoptions, assisted-living dogs for the physically challenged, and facility dogs as therapy pets.

Angels for Animals is an organization devoted to the care of abandoned animals in Allen County. The organization did contact the Allen Correctional Institution (ACI) for inmate assistance in caring for kittens that have been abandoned. Inmates are selected as animal handlers to bottle feed, litter train, and care for the kittens 24 hours a day until homes can be found for them. To date 40 kittens have been brought to the institution for care.

The Belmont Correctional Institution (BeCI) in partnership with the Belmont County Animal Rescue League and the Golden Endings Adoption Program arrange for dogs to be brought into the institution for training and care to increase the chances of dog adoption.

The inmates and staff from the Chillicothe Correctional Institution (CCI) are proud to have generated over 96,789 hours of community service in FY 2004. The Pilot Dog Program gained media attention when it was featured in the Chillicothe Gazette on May 16, 2004. Inmates are involved in training various breeds of dogs to be signal or companion dogs. When the training is complete, many of these dogs are able to provide assistance to handicapped owners by turning off lights, retrieving dropped items, and answering the phone. Some of the animals are destined to serve as companions with the elderly or with children.

The Oakwood Correctional Facility (OCF) Cadre inmates participate in the Safe Harbor Dog program, which supports the needs of disabled children and adults. In partnership with the Auglaize County Humane Society, the inmates teach basic obedience and socialization skills to the animals until they can be placed in the community. The Safe Harbor Dog program has provided dogs to nursing homes as companion dogs, to handicapped children as special needs dogs and to a mental retardation facility.

Habitat for Humanity

The Department entered into a partnership with Habitat for Humanity in 1993. Inmates from eight institutions worked on a total of 27 Habitat homes making affordable homes more available for low- to moderate-income families.

The Belmont Correctional Institution (BeCI) assisted in the construction of two new homes in Bellaire, Ohio. The inmates are involved in the Block and Up program. The inmates frame the houses, assist with the wiring and plumbing, dry wall, siding, carpet and landscaping. The Belmont crew invested over 1,180 hours in these projects.

The Grafton Correctional Institution (GCI) has a partnership with Habitat for Humanity of Greater Cleveland. Over the last five years, GCI staff and inmates have provided community support by actively participating in Habitat's mission to eliminate substandard housing and help rebuild Cleveland's urban communities. Some of the ways the inmates have participated in the Habitat mission include helping to construct new houses for low-income families, developing the Habitat Re-Store (which sells quality donated building materials) to the community, rehabilitating the Habitat Center and warehouse facility and assisting with Habitat inventory systems. Future projects being developed with Habitat include building cabinets, making signs and growing plants to be used in the landscaping of the new homes.

Schools, Community and Civic Groups

The Division of Parole of Community Services (DPCS) continues to initiate and sustain relationships with local communities. Federally funded programs such as Project GRIP, Project Safe Neighborhoods and Street Walk continue to strengthen the bonds with local communities in the Akron Region. The Chillicothe Metropolitan Housing Authority was the recipient of numerous wooden benches and picnic tables built and decorated by the offenders at Alvis House. The Mansfield Region donated approximately 45 computers, monitors and other hardware to Bucyrus City Schools in May 2004.

The Cincinnati APA Region and offenders under supervision in Cincinnati and the offenders incarcerated at Warren Correctional Institution (WCI) are producing and designing hundreds of baby quilts with donated material from local craft and supply stores. These quilts are donated to the Cincinnati Children's Hospital. Staff coordinates the community service project in the Cincinnati District Office for offenders to cut out quilt squares. The squares are taken to Warren Correctional Institution and the inmates sew the squares together in the size of a baby quilt. The quilts are then given to the Cincinnati Children's Medical Center.

The Lebanon Correctional Institution (LeCI) staff and inmates fabricate steel hog pens for the county fair boards of Clinton and Brown counties in the Ohio Penal Industries (OPI) metal furniture shop. Inmates built models of NASCAR racecars for auction at a fundraiser for the Warren County Women's Association. Inmates with artistic talent painted decorations and backgrounds for the Middletown High School Prom and for productions at various churches in Warren and surrounding counties.

The Lorain Correctional Institution (LorCI) Supreme Valley Jaycee's Charities is an inmate non-profit organization and all proceeds are donated to various charities. The group raises money through different institutional activities for various charities. This group is structured to help inmates connect with and give back to the community. The group generates community service activities by collecting cancelled stamps, aluminum can recycling, collecting aluminum can tabs, fund raising through the sale of inmate visiting room pictures and cadre inmate picture shoots. The Jaycees have given donations to the Lorain County YMCA, A Special Wish, East End Neighborhood House, World Congress Prison Ministries, Leigh's Cornerstone Project, Lorain County Safe Harbor/Genesis House, Cleveland, Community Shares, and N.A.A.C.P. through the Combined Charities Campaign (CCC).

The North Coast Correctional Treatment Facility (NCCTF) has a partnership with the Second Harvest Food Bank, Lorain, Ohio. In FY 2004 the facility delivered 95 pounds of vegetables from the NCCTF vegetable garden to the food bank which supplies food to needy people in 3 counties. The vegetables are tomatoes, green beans, peppers and lettuce. This is the third year for the garden and it has been the most productive. The facility recently donated vegetables to North Ridgeville Community Care, which assists local Lorain County.

Crayons To Computers (C2C)

The Marion Correctional Institution (MCI) is active with Crayons to Computers in Cincinnati. Offenders make tote bags and educational learning cards for school students. Montgomery Education and Pre-Release Center (MEPRC) inmates continue to transform donated paper, poster board, felt and other materials into flashcards, journals, tote bags, puppets and other educational and incentive items for the Crayons to Computers program. Teachers take the finished products back to their students and classrooms at the area's needy schools. Every other week, MEPRC delivers products and picks up raw material from C2C in order to continue production.

The North Central Correctional Institution (NCCI) has created a community service dorm to enhance community service hours. The inmates volunteer to live in the dormitory to complete community service projects on a regular basis. The dormitory created 30 new full-time inmate jobs as program aids. These jobs are full-time community service positions assigned specifically to the dorm. Inmates in these positions have the responsibilities of teaching other inmates specific art classes for new projects and for developing ideas for new projects. The other inmates in the dorm continue to work full-time jobs and complete the community service projects in their spare time.

Government and Agency Partnerships

Recycling

The Noble Correctional Institution (NCI), the Ohio Department of Natural Resources (ODNR) and the Southeastern Ohio Joint Solid Waste Management District, were able to identify ways to reduce waste and increase recycling efforts inside the institution. Through this partnership, the agencies have reduced waste cost and eliminated items from landfills.

A ceremony was held at NCI in August 2003 to recognize this highly successful recycling program. During the ceremony, Director Reginald A. Wilkinson and Department of Natural Resources Director Sam Speck, praised the recycling program, which is a unique partnership between DRC and ODNR. The agencies made a commitment to examine statewide implementation of a recycling program. The DRC and ODNR partnership should be considered a benchmark for other state agencies to implement similar programs.

Emergency Preparedness

The Corrections Reception Center (CRC) and the Orient Complex currently contract with Scioto Township for all Fire and Emergency Medical services. In 2004, CRC initiated the creation of a committee that meets each quarter to review all fire and emergency medical response reports and addresses concerns that either the institutions or the township identifies. Scioto township committee members are the Fire Chief and Assistant Fire Chief, a township trustee, the health and safety officer, health care administrator, and institutional security staff. The work reviewed in these meetings is instrumental in the continuation of quality service for the inmates and for providing feedback to the Township.

The Division of Parole and Community Services (DPCS) continues to recognize the importance of quality partnerships with government agencies. The Division has received recognition from the FBI, U.S. Marshals Service, U.S. District Attorney, and local law enforcement agencies as partners in special federally funded community programs.

The Oakwood Correctional Facility (OCF) staff and inmates partnered with the Mercer County Sheriff's Office to respond to rising flood water in Celina, Ohio in FY 2004. Nine (9) OCF inmates worked for 128 hours filling more than 8,000 sandbags to protect the citizens of Celina.

The Office of Prisons and the Ohio Security Task Force sponsored a Weapons of Mass Destruction and Terrorist Tabletop exercise at the Corrections Training Academy (CTA) in May 2004. The exercise encompassed a multi-jurisdictional effort that included twenty-two local, state and federal law enforcement and emergency medical response agencies. This event was coordinated through a U.S. Office of Homeland Security grant obtained by DRC and the Ohio Emergency Management Agency. The Department has also planned the first-ever full scale Weapons of Mass Destruction and Terrorist exercise to take place in a correctional setting for October 2004.

Shared Services

The Lebanon Correctional Institution (LeCI) provides all of the potable water for LeCI, Warren Correctional Institution (WCI) the Butler, Warren, and Clermont County Community Correctional Center, the Turtle Creek Halfway House, Ohio Department of Transportation (ODOT) District 8 headquarters and the Otterbein Retirement Community. LeCI recently completed a new one million-gallon water storage tower to provide expanded services with more efficiency

The Mansfield Correctional Institution (ManCI) and Richland Correctional Institution (RiCI) formed the NAACP National Prison Program to connect prison NAACP branches with the national office and other community branches. Prison branches are organized to serve as the Association's vehicle to assist in recidivism reduction, to promote re-enfranchisement, and to encourage the successful reentry of offenders into the community. Through collaborative partnerships with the public and private sectors, including the support of philanthropic groups, the NAACP Prison Project also addresses disparate treatment within the criminal justice system and promulgates felony re-enfranchisement. In January 2004, the Richland Correctional Institution branch of the NAACP was selected as the Branch of the Month. NAACP recognized RiCI for their efforts in recruiting more than 146 members in January 2004.

The Marion Correctional Institution (MCI) and Marion Red Cross Chapter House conduct meetings at MCI to discuss community service projects. The Marion Red Cross Chapter auctioned inmate-created airbrush paintings and quilts. One quilt was auctioned for $1000.00 to the American Heart Association. MCI offenders volunteered 21,071 hours to the Chapter House through these projects. Red Cross offenders also contributed to the TWICE Program (Training Workshops with Interviews for Community Employment.) This involved the Marion Employment Services conducting workshops for offenders.

The Southeastern Correctional Institution (SCI) Career Technical Horticultural program and the Ohio Expo Center began their partnership in 1997 with a common goal of beautification of the Ohio State Fair and Exposition Center grounds. The program's contribution expands annually. In FY 2004, the SCI Horticulture program nurtured 540 flats of flowers, 90 hanging baskets and 40 container plants for the 2004 Ohio State Fair.

Education

The Ohio Central School System (OCSS) in FY 2004, worked in conjunction with the Ohio Department of Education, and the U.S. Department of Education, to fund and operate education programs within the Department. The cumulative enrollment figures for FY 2004 totaled 29,772. Over 3,200 completion certificates were awarded to DRC students in FY 2004.

The Ohio Central School System served a total of 29,722 students in FY 2004:

·	ABLE/Literacy students	7,601
·	GED/Pre-GED students	13,115
·	High School students	302
·	Career-Technical students	3,682
·	Advanced Job Training students	3,176
·	Apprenticeship students	1,435
·	Special Education students	411

Total students served by OCSS: 29,722

The Ohio Central School System certified a total of 12,033 students in Fiscal Year 2004:

·	ABLE/Literacy certificates	1,443
·	Pre-GED/GED certificates	5,096
·	GED diplomas	1,684
·	High School diplomas	24
·	Career-Technical certificates	1,374
·	Advanced Job Training certificates	762
·	Apprenticeship certificates	531
·	Tutors Trained and certified	1,119

Total students certified by OCSS: 12,033

Research

The Bureaus of Research (BOR) and Planning and Evaluation (BOPE) coordinate and plan the Ohio Criminal Justice Research Conference. The seventh annual conference held in April 2004 attracted more than 150 individuals from government, academic and independent research interested in criminal justice and criminological issues to share their ideas and findings with others and to encourage dialogue for future study. The keynote speaker was Dr. Mario Paparozzi, currently on the faculty at the University of North Carolina at Pembroke, who is a leading authority on community corrections and corrections administration. The Simon Dinitz Award recognizing excellence in criminal justice research was presented to Dr. Ruth D. Peterson, Professor of Sociology and Director of the Criminal Justice Research Center at The Ohio State University. A plenary session on the Ohio Reentry Initiative and nine panels focusing on such topics as sex offenders, mental health issues, domestic violence, law enforcement and the courts were featured.

The BOR and BOPE publish the Ohio Corrections Research Compendium to coincide with the Research Conference. The Compendium is a collection of articles covering not only recent research conducted internally but also includes corrections research by other departmental staff to include the Director, Assistant Director, Deputy Directors, researchers from other criminal justice agencies and academia. The 2004 volume includes thirty-four articles - fifteen by DRC research staff, six by other DRC staff, and thirteen by academics and other non-DRC researchers.

During FY 2004, the Bureau of Planning and Evaluation and the Center for Criminal Justice Research at the University of Cincinnati began a partnership to study the effectiveness of Community Corrections Act-funded programs for the Bureau of Community Sanctions. This project replicates a study, completed in FY 2002 that focused on Halfway Houses and Community-Based Correctional Facilities. The findings of these two studies will help the Bureau of Community Sanctions in refining both programmatic standards and funding formulas for these community alternatives to prison.

Reentry

Family Involvement

In April 2004, the Department and the Center for Families and Children (CFC) of Cleveland co-sponsored a three-day conference entitled "Fathers Matter: Prisoners as Parents and the Challenge of Reentry". This collaboration between DRC and CFC, one of Ohio's largest non-profit human service agencies, centered on the importance of the family role in an offender's reentry back into the community. The conference presented an opportunity for community and corrections professionals to explore the avenues available to assist fathers in the reentry process after a period of incarceration.

Workshops and focus group topics included: case management application, how to keep expectant couples together, prisoners as parents, the role of faith-based organizations and parenting programs from inside the prison. Keynote speaker, Emani Davis, addressed the conference attendees about the issues facing children of incarcerated parents. Emani, with her mother Elizabeth Gaynes, were nominees for the 2004 World's Children Prize for the Rights of the Child for their groundbreaking and tireless work on behalf of children of incarcerated parents. Participants also heard from Lee Fisher, Director and CEO of CFC; Tom Hayes, Director of the Ohio Department of Job and Family Services, and DRC Director Reginald A. Wilkinson.

Access to Service Providers

The Dayton Correctional Institution (DCI) sponsored a Reentry Spring Kick-Off open house in May 2004, with the goal of breaking the cycle of recidivism. This open house event was designed and developed to give inmates face-to-face contact with representatives of various community programs, and increase awareness of one of DCI's major strengths - its wide variety of programming options for the inmate population. DCI has access to many community resources that can be useful in assisting inmates with solving problems and adjusting to reentry. More than 50 representatives from three surrounding counties were invited to this event. These agencies offered rehabilitative information ranging from housing and recovery services to anger management, education and child support services.

The open house also added collaboration between various DCI departments to better facilitate reentry goals. Each department set up a booth displaying program information with an employee available to answer questions from inmates. The Reentry Spring Kick-Off, the first event of its kind in the Department, was purpose driven and highly successful. This event is also one that is capable of being put into effect by prisons throughout the Department.

Technology

The Division of Business Administration (DBA) and the Cuyahoga County Common Pleas Court implemented a project to conduct criminal hearings with inmates in DRC institutions using the videoconferencing network. As a result, the court is able to expeditiously resolve cases involving pending charges without transporting the inmate back to Cleveland, resulting in increased savings and security for the public.

The Bureau of Information Technology Services (BITS) created a new tracking system to automate various community partnership programs such as the Work Opportunity Tax Credit, Employment Job Fair videoconference invitations, and the Ex-offender Job Tracking system. These software applications involve interfacing with other state agency systems, which eliminates tedious manual processes, saving time and resources.

Community Justice Partners

The Division of Parole and Community Services (DPCS) continues to be heavily invested in the reentry philosophy. All of the APA regions are involved in activities to support this initiative. The Akron Region participated in Community Symposiums, which were attended by over 300 including local dignitaries. The Cincinnati Offender Services Network established four Community Reentry Management Teams in the region. The Cleveland Regional Administrator serves on Cleveland Mayor Jane Campbell's Reentry Strategic Planning Advisory Board. The Cleveland Region has begun plans to form a partnership with Women's Reentry Network/WREN. It is well documented that Northeastern Ohio is responsible for approximately 25% of Ohio convictions and returns to the community for supervision. Due to this fact, the Northeast Corrections Leadership Coalition (NCLC) was created in November 2003. The design of the team, from the Greater Cleveland area is a concentration of leaders that possess the ability and resources to positively influence local corrections-related issues for the betterment of the community.

The Office of Victim Services defined restitution collection as a priority for FY 2004. A workgroup was formed to look at the entire process of restitution. This workgroup includes key stakeholders from each area of criminal justice; including the Attorney General's Office, county probation, victim assistance, community corrections, Public Defenders Office, Office of Criminal Justice Services (OCJS), State's Attorney office, DRC and APA.

The Ohio State Supreme Court ruled on December 18, 2002 in Layne vs. Ohio Adult Parole Authority that a breach of contract occurred when the Ohio Parole Board applied its Guidelines and categorized an inmate's offense behavior(s) instead of the inmate's offense(s) of conviction that the inmate pled to as part of a plea agreement. The Parole Board was ordered to re-categorize affected inmates based on their offense(s) of conviction, which has resulted in 2,497 inmates being rescheduled for Parole Consideration Hearings. The re-hearings began in March 2003, with the goal of completing all the re-hearings by the end of fiscal year 2004. As of June 30, 2004, the Board completed 2,491 of these cases, with 6 cases pending a final action.

The Franklin Pre-Release Center (FPRC) and Wilmington College teamed to provide a workshop for nineteen graduate students in criminal justice from Wright State University. The students and their professor spent an evening and a full day experiencing prison life for female offenders. The purpose of this workshop was three-fold: to educate future criminal justice professionals, to recruit students for the FPRC/Wilmington College program, and to prepare offenders for successful reintegration into the community. An in-depth discussion of the mission, philosophy and programming at FPRC was provided to the participants. In addition, gender specific questions from the participants addressing the difference between the male and female population were answered. Four current Wilmington College students at FPRC and two ex-offenders who were former Wilmington College students shared their personal stories: their lives, their crimes, and their imprisonment experience.

In FY 2004, Grafton Correctional Institution (GCI) reaffirmed its commitment to the Reentry initiative with its involvement in the LINCS Program (Lives Incorporating New Concepts Successfully), a Community Citizen Circle for Lorain County. The purpose of this group of community partners which includes Lorain County Joint Vocational School, the Nord Center, Circle of Recovery, Ohio Adult Parole Authority, Elyria Police Department, Services Board of Lorain County and local prisons is to assist ex-offenders in becoming "restored citizens". Ex-offenders make an application to the program, agency members screen the applications and selected applicants are invited to participate in the Circle's programming, services and support. Criteria for selection include ownership of the reason for incarceration and a desire to get help and participate positively as a "restored citizen". Some of their services include assistance in finding employment, housing, transportation, education and avoiding those contacts, which could lead to re-offending. To date, no applicant that has applied to the Circle has been denied participation

Employment

In the spring of 2004, the Lebanon Correctional Institution (LeCI) began developing an exciting and innovative reentry program for inmates. Chef Jimmy Girardi, owner of the well known "J's Seafood" restaurants in Cincinnati and Dayton, proposed a twelve-week course in cooking and other aspects of restaurant operation that he and members of his staff will teach at the institution's minimum security camp. This program will greatly increase the potential for employment for those inmates completing the course.

Faith-Based Initiatives

The Marion Correctional Institution (MCI) has partnered with Promise Keepers (PK) for the past four years with annual religious conferences, weekly share groups and monthly rallies. Significantly, MCI hosted the first live conference from within any prison in 2003. That particular conference was broadcast live throughout the United States and in several foreign countries. In FY 2004, Tom Fortson, the CEO of PK attended the conference at MCI and 1,200 of the 1,600 offenders voluntarily attended the conference. These conferences are funded through contributions from local churches, individuals and Promise Keepers. At a recent PK board meeting, a decision was made to earmark several hundred thousand dollars for prison ministry within the United States. Ohio is included in their 2005 schedule.

In August 2003, the American Correctional Association awarded the Marion Correctional Institution (MCI) with the first Chaplaincy Offender Program Award during the 2003 American Correctional Association's Annual Conference held in Nashville, Tennessee. MCI was honored for its Horizon Interfaith Program, a residential interfaith dorm housing Jewish, Muslim and Christian inmates together. Within this dorm, the inmates are encouraged to learn and practice tolerance and respect for other faiths.

Forming and maintaining community partnerships has been a rich tradition at the Franklin Pre-Release Center (FPRC). Currently, FPRC has approximately 1,150 approved volunteers who provide faith-based programs and activities, gender-specific programming, as well as provide referral and resource information to offenders involved in our release preparation workshops.

The MCI Exodus program is a faith-based reentry program assisting offenders with transition from prison into their community. The Exodus program has partnered with several volunteers to provide educational programming to aid in transition such as, communication skills, personal finance and character building. Faith mentors are being recruited to assist with transition during the last six months of an offender's incarceration and continue outside of prison, into the faith community. The program has assisted with family reunification and housing. Exodus has partnered with the Material Assisted Providers (MAP) to provide furniture to offenders leaving prison, at no cost to the offender. The Exodus program continues to partner with local churches for mentors, community organizations for resources and individual volunteers for expertise and leadership.

The North Central Correctional Institution (NCCI) is creating a new pre-release preparation program called "120-and-a-Wake-Up". The institution has linked with the Agape Community Reentry Ministry of Columbus, Ohio and has brought financial planners, realtors, a parole officer, and motivational speakers to the institution for this weekly gathering. The prison's "One Church - One Inmate" mentoring outreach initiative has developed a roster of churches throughout the state that have indicated a desire to mentor men released from NCCI to assist in their faith journey as they return to the community.

Major Reentry Initiatives

Serious and Violent Offender Reentry Initiative (SVORI) / Community-Oriented Reentry Program (CORE)

In April 2004, CORE was invited to apply for a supplemental grant in the amount of $317,000. The grant submitted for CORE addressed the idea of expanding the already existing Assertive Community Treatment (ACT) teams (see page 14) to include all serious mental health disorders.

The CORE grant will allow DRC to pilot many of the Ohio Plan recommendations with a selected targeted population of higher risk, violent, felony offenders released from prison. The experiences and evaluation of this grant will provide valuable feedback on changes that may be made to improve the processes and system governing offender reentry.

Serious and Violent Offender Reentry Initiative (SVORI) Evaluation

In January 2004, the CORE grant was selected as one of 16 SVORI grant sites to participate in the national evaluation of the federal grant. The Urban Institute and Research Triangle Institute began conducting the evaluation in July 2004.

Reentry Operations Manual

In June 2004, a reentry operations training manual was finalized by an interdisciplinary team of institutional, parole, central office staff and a consultant. The manual called Offender Reentry Planning: A Staff Guide, is designed to provide clear operational guidance and "how to" instruction on the whole of the reentry planning and reentry management team process as offenders move from reception to their parent institution to community supervision. The first training on this manual is being targeted for December 2004. The CORE grant sites will be the first group trained on the process with additional training occurring in separate phases across all DRC sites.

Family Life Centers - Pilot Project

DRC recently received a commitment of $3M from the Temporary Assistance to Needy Families (TANF) grant administered by the Ohio Department of Job and Family Services to pilot "Family Life Centers" inside three prisons. The pilot project, "Children of Incarcerated Parents: Breaking the Cycle", will establish three such centers at Dayton, London, and Richland Correctional Institutions to provide parenting and family services to offenders before and after release from prison. This initiative will build on the Department's commitment to reentry by encouraging family members to participate in prison-based programming, while accessing additional resources and wrap-around services in partnership with three community agencies: Talbert House (Hamilton County), the Center for Families and Children (Cuyahoga County), and Alvis House (Franklin County).

Assertive Community Treatment (ACT) Teams

The forensic Assertive Community Treatment (ACT) Team is a service delivery model that provides comprehensive community-based treatment for offenders under post release supervision with the highest level of need due to serious mental illness. Currently, the Department has two forensic ACT programs designed to work with SMI offenders under supervision in Cuyahoga and Hamilton Counties. The Department partners with the Community Mental Health Boards in these two counties to provide limited funds to help support the teams and assigns a parole officer dedicated to work with the team staff.

Each team has a psychiatrist, a psychiatric nurse, three community case managers, and a parole officer. Each case manager has a specialty, such as vocational services, government benefits, and housing. All team members work with the offenders, and have access to services 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. The community forensic ACT staff work with the prison multi-disciplinary mental health staff and the inmate to develop a specific treatment plan before the inmate's release. Intensive supports, and clinical treatments are provided in the community in an attempt to change the lifestyle patterns that often lead to recidivism. Support services include linkage to benefits, stable housing, supportive employment and the provision of clinical services

The outcomes that are sought for offenders participating under the guidance of the forensic ACT teams include a reduction in recidivism and inpatient hospital days, stable housing, access to benefits and employment opportunities, and an improved quality of life. Re-arrests, returns to prison, housing type, employment type, and linked benefits are all tracked and monitored. Forensic ACT Teams have enabled some of the most at-risk offenders, who have returned to prison in the past, to complete supervision and remain in the community.

The department continues to work with key stakeholders, such as families, the National Alliance for the Mentally Ill, the Department of Mental Health, consumer advocate groups, the Ohio Supreme Court Advisory Committee, and community mental health boards and agencies to improve the reentry process in prison and the community. The aim is to develop and refine strategies, and to create new partnerships to support the successful transition of offenders with a mental illness from prison to the community. The innovative work now underway demonstrates that it is possible to support offenders with a mental illness to become productive citizens of the community, thereby contributing to the enhancement of public safety.

DRC Family Council

This Council is composed of various state agencies, family members, non-profit and interfaith members, agencies, and family counseling practitioners to address offender family issues across the reentry continuum. The goal is to develop strategies and to adopt practices that foster family engagement and support as offenders prepare for their reentry transition during confinement, and following their release to the community.

Lima Adult Parole Authority (APA) - Toledo Office Weed and Seed Program

This Toledo Region parole office program reflects strong partnerships and multi-agency collaboration with the parole officers, Toledo Police Division, Social Services agencies, Attorney General, Lucas County Prosecutor and County Sheriff. The purpose is to "weed out" offenders who continue criminal behavior after release, and "seed in" parole, police, and social services to assist offenders wanting to become productive and law-abiding citizens of the community.

Reentry of Individuals and Enriching Lives (RIEL)

There are 42 community partners that make up the membership of the RIEL community partnership. The mission of the forum is to empower families through education and awareness. The philosophy of this partnership is, "people helping people".

The first community reentry forum was held in January 2004. Vendors from various community agencies were there to answer questions and inform community citizens about services available in their area. Citizens were also invited to participate in the partnership, allowing for the community voice to be heard.

The first annual Family Forum Day was held on August 21, 2004 at the University of Toledo's Scott Park Campus. This gathering was an interactive forum designed to educate, create awareness and network. The "RIEL" Partnership offered a marketplace of 64 service providers /agencies the opportunity to showcase their services, share their expertise, and network with the families of our communities. Presentations in Spanish / English /Translation for the Hearing Impaired included the following topics: Family and Marital, Overview of Mental Health and Substance Abuse Services, Homelessness, Employment Sources, Faith Based Resources, Youth and Senior Issues, Basic Needs/Language Opportunities, Legal Services Assistance, and Data Sharing. Throughout the day, families obtained information on available programs. The main function of this day was to empower families with education and awareness to help them attain their goals.

Social Security Administration (SSA) Project

This is an interagency partnership to assist disabled offenders after release. The following agencies have partnered to assist those identified offenders eligible for benefits upon release: DRC, Social Security Administration, Ohio Bureau of Disability Determination, and the Department of Mental Health. The program began in January 2004.

The Program targets offenders being released to Cuyahoga, Allen, and Franklin Counties. Eleven state correctional institutions are involved in the program, including those with Residential Treatment

Units (RTU) for mentally ill offenders and offenders with more involved medical conditions. The eleven institutions are: ACI, ORW, PCI, RiCI, CCI, CRC, GCI, OCF, TCI, CMC, and HCF.

An application for benefits is submitted 90 days before release. A telephone interview is conducted with employees from the Social Security Administration. Medical and mental health documentation is provided to appropriate personnel. Offenders receive assistance in filling out the appropriate forms.

Offender Job Linkage (OJL) Program

The Offender Job Linkage (OJL) program utilizes the Department's videoconferencing capabilities to link employers with job ready offenders who are within 60 days of release. The Employment Videoconferences are held in the local Adult Parole Regions (APA) offices and permit area employers to interview offenders in multiple institutions without having to travel extensively. During FY 2004, 24 employment videoconferences were held in Akron, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Columbus, Dayton, and Toledo. There were 234 offenders who received referrals to employers or partner agencies throughout the state.

OJL also partners with local agencies to conduct Workforce Development Workshops. This year the partners include the Mayors' offices in Cleveland and Dayton, Cleveland City Council, the City of Cleveland's Division of Workforce Development/Cleveland Career Center, the Urban League of Akron, Goodwill Industries in Cleveland, and the Department of Job and Family Services in Cleveland, Akron, and Dayton. Workshops were held in Cleveland (May 2004), and Dayton (May 2004).

In September 2003, the Department received an "Outstanding Performance Award" from Ron Rubbin, Director of the National Office of the Federal Bonding Program. The Department was selected for this national award for its "accomplishment in successfully securing job placements" with the use of the Fidelity Bonding services.

Mayor's Reentry Advisory Committee Cleveland, Ohio

The City of Cleveland has established an Advisory Committee under the Community Reentry Strategic Initiative. Formed under the auspices of the Mayor's Office, the goal of this initiative is to develop a strategic plan that will provide a blueprint for linking resources, identifying effective programming, and enhancing service delivery for ex-offenders returning to the city of Cleveland.

Transitional Jobs Program

The Transitional Jobs Program is a component of the Cuyahoga County Department of Employment and Family Services. Vocational Guidance Services received a $1M grant to provide services to TANF recipients. Fifty percent of the available slots funded through the Workforce Investment Board are reserved for persons with prior criminal convictions. Many ex-offenders lack a stable work history or do not have one at all.

Individuals are provided paid internships, not only receiving a paycheck but also learning valuable work skills. These skills range from developing a professional work ethic, developing a realistic budget, work history, and an understanding of the workforce environment. Upon completion of the internship, offenders are linked and placed in appropriate jobs. Services will be provided and monitored through the City of Cleveland's One-Stop Center.

Providing Real Opportunities for Ex-Offenders to Succeed (PROES)

Through the Departments of Rehabilitation and Correction and Job and Family Services, the city of Cleveland was the recipient of $1.7M in Workforce Investment Act (WIA) funds from the Governor's Workforce Investment Act discretionary dollars for Providing Real Opportunities for Ex-Offenders to Succeed (PROES). Locally, the city of Cleveland invested $1.5M of its own WIA funds into the effort.

The PROES initiative will provide an on-site program for a total of 200 ex-offenders each year for two years. It is a statewide pilot designed to reduce the rate of recidivism by providing intensive life management and job readiness skills training, alongside a holistic approach to bring services and training to individuals in a One Stop environment. The program will provide a comprehensive service delivery system focused on immediate employment with support services integration. It will work in conjunction with the Alternatives Agency Inc. Employment Solutions Program.

Training Initiatives

Law Enforcement and Emergency Preparedness

The Department received three Homeland Security Grants amounting to $165,021 in FY 04. Grant funds were used in part to fund a mock tabletop disaster response that included community agencies and partners such as the Ohio State Highway Patrol, local emergency response teams, and medical response teams. Two Enforcement Unit Grants amounting to $200,601 were received, and will be used to partner institution correction officers with parole officers and the Ohio State Highway Patrol.

The local Madison County Emergency Management Agency (EMA) has teamed up with Madison Correctional Institution (MaCI) to provide for CERT (Community Emergency Response Team) training. There have been several CERT training classes held at the institution and staff have also attended training throughout Madison County. As such, many MaCI staff are CERT trained and serve as initial responders during local disasters.

The Bureau of Adult Detention is responsible for conducting or facilitating twelve training classes for jail administrators and their key staff; including training provided to key jail staff during the third Annual Ohio Jail Administrator's Conference. The Bureau provided training on the Planning Approval Process to a number of individual architects and select jail staff involved on individual construction projects.

The Belmont Correctional Institution (BeCI) collaborated this past year in a joint countywide Critical Incident Management (CIM) Exercise that was held in Martins Ferry, Ohio. BeCI staff designed and coordinated a Full-Scale exercise for some of the key stakeholders in Belmont County. The exercise was created to test the city's response to a possible terrorist type of attack that could paralyze various facets of Martins Ferry's government. This project brought together BeCI, the Emergency Management Agency, Belmont County Sheriff's Department, Martins Ferry Mayor's Office, Police and Fire Department along with various other city offices. Additionally, representatives were present from the Red Cross, Homeland Security and the media.

Presentations

The Cincinnati APA Regional Administrator participated as a panel member for the Black Man's Think Tank held at Sinclair Community College in May 2004. In an effort to reach out to the community, Parole Board members presented a panel discussion at the "Two Days in May" Victims Conference sponsored by the Ohio Attorney General's Office.

The Office of Victim Services and the Attorney General's Capital Crimes Section co-sponsored two Post-Conviction Death Penalty Symposiums for family members of victims of death row inmates. These unique day-long conferences were the first of their kind in the nation.

The Division of Parole & Community Services (DPCS) is planning the Community Education Program to provide presentations to communities in Cuyahoga County regarding Sex Offender Registration and Notification (SORN) laws and application. The Cuyahoga County Sex Offender Council includes non-profit, county and state agencies committed to addressing concerns about the monitoring and treatment of sex offenders and their impact on the community. Agencies include the Justice Department, Cuyahoga County Prosecutor's Office, Cuyahoga County Sheriff's Department, Cuyahoga County Common Pleas Court, Adult Probation Department and the DPCS. The first presentation is scheduled for October 2004.

Youth and Prevention

Crafts with Conviction

Through the Department's program Crafts with Conviction (CwC), inmates across the state transform donated materials such as paper, felt and other raw materials into classroom aids and educational supplies for Crayons to Computers (C2C), a free store for less-advantaged school districts. Since the inception of the program in 1998, inmates participating in the CwC program have produced products valued at over $6 million, making it C2C's largest product donor. Each year, these inmates produce nearly one third of the total value of the items distributed by C2C. This year, inmates from twelve institutions produced teaching aids valued at over $1 million.

Educational Material and Presentations

Inmates from the Ohio Reformatory for Women, Grafton Correctional Institution, Pickaway Correctional Institution, and Ross Correctional Institution gave presentations to discourage students from engaging in violence and driving while drunk by conducting speak outs for eight Appalachian counties, 350 driver education schools, 42 4H Clubs, Car-Teens, a court ordered youth driver program, 250 school resource officers and 150 Ohio schools across 38 counties.

The department continues to encourage classroom learning. The Department's partnership with C.O.S.I. resulted in inmates producing science kits for 2.1 million students and teachers across Ohio. To help the Ohio Department of Natural Resources enhance classroom learning for Ohio students, inmates assembled 4,600 rock kits during FY '04. Since 1998, 29,200 kits have been assembled.

A community service project named "Project Joy Bags" was given an award by Ohio's First Lady Hope Taft for National Make a Difference Day. Project Joy Bags, a project done for Global Impact, is a community service project in which inmates decorate paper bags with artwork and fill them with educational supplies, crayons, books and relief items. Nine institutions and adopt-a-school participants in partnership with Global Impact created approximately 4,000 gift bags for war-torn children in overseas areas. The outreach relief missionary program supports the president's "No Child Left Behind" Act. These bags were sent to 10,000 children in refugee camps in Iraq, Afghanistan and Syria.

In August 2003, the Correctional Reception Center (CRC) Family Ties program, along with the CRC 7 Step Foundation, a charitable inmate organization, hosted a Back to School Drive for the children of the Cadre inmates. The Back to School Drive was initiated by the inmates and over $300.00 was donated to purchase items to be distributed to the children. The goal was to help relieve some of the stress, particularly financial, on the caregivers of the children. The inmates wanted to help take some ownership in their children's education and this provided a way to do so from behind bars. Many of the children attend local schools and representatives from those schools were in attendance to support the program. The school representatives were able to see the bonds developed between the inmates and their children as well as the success of the program.

The Ohio Central School System (OCCS) reports that over 46,000 OhioReads children were served in FY2004 in the Department's OhioReads Reading Rooms located in each of the prison's visiting areas. OCCS added 31 computers with Reading and Ohio Proficiency Tutorial Programs to the OhioReads rooms. DRC OhioReads reading room narrators worked over 40,000 hours helping children in FY 2004. To date, eight Jumpy Books have been published for the DRC Jumpy the Kangaroo Family Literacy Initiative with over 37,000 copies distributed statewide.

The Ohio State Penitentiary (OSP) staff and inmates from the Correctional Camp provided motivational and emotional presentations about prison life and the choices made contributing to a cause of incarceration. The program is a joint effort between OSP, the Ohio State Highway Patrol and Mahoning County Educational Services. Presentations were made at 10 schools to a total of 3,100 students.

Mentoring

The Division of Parole and Community Services (DPCS) and Regional APA Offices continue to establish partnerships with colleges, universities, juvenile facilities, and public schools. The Chillicothe APA Region is partnering with the local faith community to develop a Mentoring Program for Children of Incarcerated Parents. The grant, applied for by K and C Educational Associates, would provide services to the children and act as a liaison for the incarcerated parent.

The Girls Scouts of Apple Seed Ridge have enjoyed a wonderful collaborative relationship with Allen Correctional Institution (ACI) with the implementation of the "Beyond Bars: Daddies and Daughters" program. The program is open to inmates who have daughters between the ages of five and 14 years residing in a 10-county area: Allen, Auglaize, Hancock, Hardin, Logan, Mercer, Paulding, Putnam, Shelby, and Van Wert Counties. ACI provides staff volunteers, meeting space, and snacks for the participating inmates and their daughters.

The Ocie Hill Neighborhood Center and Mansfield Correctional Institution (ManCI) partnered to create the Nexus program. The mission of the Nexus program is to provide a safe venue for at-risk youth. Participants can freely express their inner thoughts, goals and dreams, while learning about choices and consequences. The value of individuality and self-esteem plays an important role in this program. Youth are provided the opportunity to ask questions pertaining to the penal system, how government works, and interpersonal skills. These youth are matched with a mentor from the Ocie Hill Neighborhood Center and Mansfield Correctional Institution.

Health and Dental

The Franklin Pre-Release Center (FPRC) sponsors Give Kids A Smile! Day. In conjunction with the Ohio Dental Association and the Columbus Dental Society, FPRC reached out to the children of the women at FPRC to provide an educational program on the basics of oral health, showing the children how to brush and floss properly and teaching the women and the children's caregivers about the important relationship between oral hygiene and good general health. Children and adults were given Healthy Smiles kits which include spin brushes, toothpaste and activity sheets; a booklet, "Smile for a Lifetime of Good Oral and Overall Health." The Ohio News Network provided media coverage of this event.
